

Sabrina Karlin

Driven by her passions for dance and writing, Sabrina Karlin attended NYU's Tisch School of the Arts ('18), graduating summa cum laude with a BFA in dance and BA in journalism. She served as both an intern and production assistant for BADS during her time on Acuity, and choreographed and performed for her high school's varsity dance team, Knight Dancers. Sabrina has attended intensives with American Ballet Theatre, Ballet Austin, Central Pennsylvania Youth Ballet, San Francisco Conservatory of Dance and Kibbutz Contemporary Dance Company (Israel), among others. Since graduating, she has performed as a featured dancer in Oklahoma! at Sundance Theatre, and will begin working with BalletNext in fall of 2018. She is an avid student of life and learning, and has additional interests in design, arts management, filmmaking and foreign languages. | sabinakarlin.com
